SCROLL AGAINST EVERY ANCIENT ENTITY OPERATING THROUGH MODERN STRUCTURES

July 7, 2026

In the name of Yeshua HaMashiach, who is come in the flesh, who died on the cross, and rose again on the third day and who holds authority over all who is before all things and by whom all things consist, who was ancient before the ancients were born and who outlasts every entity that ever claimed a throne — this scroll is released against every old power hiding inside new systems.

For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by him, and for him. — Colossians 1:16

They did not disappear. The entities that stood behind Babylon, behind Assyria, behind Egypt, behind Persia, behind Rome — they did not die when those empires fell. Empires are clothing. The entities wear them for a season and when the fabric tears they put on new garments. The names change. The logos change. The architecture changes. But the principality behind the throne is the same one that sat behind the last throne and the one before that.

They are in the boardrooms now. They are in the broadcast towers. They are in the algorithms. They are in the opening ceremonies. They are in the symbols on the currency and the architecture of the capitals and the logos of the corporations. They hide in plain sight because the modern world decided they do not exist and that is the best hiding place any entity has ever had — a civilisation that does not believe in the thing that controls it.

For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. — Ephesians 6:12

In the name of Yeshua, the bull-man is addressed. Kusarikku. The gate guardian. The threshold keeper. The ancient Babylonian entity that was placed at the entrance of temples and palaces to guard what was inside and control who passed through. That entity did not retire when Babylon fell. It moved. It stands at the gates of modern power now — at the entrances of media empires, at the thresholds of tech platforms, at the doors of institutions that decide what the world sees and hears and believes. It guards the gate still. It decides who enters and who is kept out. It controls access to influence, to platform, to audience, to truth.

Bull-man, I see you. You are seen. Your position at the gate is revoked. You do not control who speaks and who is silenced. You do not control what is broadcast and what is suppressed. The Lord holds the keys and you are a gatekeeper without authority sitting at a gate you do not own. In the name of Yeshua you are removed from your post and your gate is opened to what the Lord wants through it and closed to what He does not.

In the name of Yeshua, every ancient entity operating through modern media is exposed and dismantled. Every spirit that rides the broadcast signal. Every principality that sits behind a news network and decides what the world is told. Every entity that shapes narrative, manufactures consent, programs opinion, and calls it journalism. The Babylonian spirit of propaganda did not die — it moved into the television and then into the internet and it operates the same way it always did. It tells the empire what to think and the empire obeys. That influence is broken now.

In the name of Yeshua, every ancient entity operating through world games and ceremonies is exposed. The Olympics did not invent their rituals. They inherited them. The opening ceremonies with their strange performances, their fire imagery, their mythological figures paraded before billions — those are not entertainment. Those are invocations broadcast at scale. Every entity summoned in those ceremonies, every spirit invoked through symbolism that the audience does not understand but the principalities do — their influence is blocked. Their ceremonies produce nothing. Their invocations fall dead in the air.

Thou shalt have no other gods before me. — Exodus 20:3

In the name of Yeshua, every ancient entity operating through the tech giants is exposed. The companies that control what the world sees, reads, searches, and speaks are not neutral platforms. They are temples. They have their own priests — the executives who make the rules. They have their own doctrine — the community guidelines that define acceptable speech. They have their own rituals — the algorithms that reward and punish. And behind the visible structure sits the same type of entity that sat behind every temple in every civilisation that came before. The spirit of control. The spirit of surveillance. The spirit that wants to know every thought, track every movement, and predict every action. That is not technology. That is an ancient ambition wearing a silicon mask.

In the name of Yeshua, the spirits behind the symbols are exposed. The all-seeing eye on the currency. The obelisks in the capitals. The pyramids in the logos. The winged bulls in the government buildings. The fasces on the walls of congress. The Babylonian, Egyptian, and Roman imagery embedded in the architecture of power across the Western world — none of it is decorative. All of it is functional. These symbols are anchor points. They hold the entities in place. They mark the territory. They declare who really sits behind the throne even while the public thinks they elected the person sitting in the chair.

Every symbol is declared depowered. Every anchor point is declared uprooted. Every territorial marker is declared erased in the spiritual realm. The entities can keep their statues and their logos and their architecture — the stone means nothing when the spirit behind it has been evicted.

Their idols are silver and gold, the work of men's hands. They have mouths, but they speak not: eyes have they, but they see not: They have ears, but they hear not: noses have they, but they smell not. — Psalm 115:4-6

In the name of Yeshua, every ancient entity operating through financial systems is exposed. Mammon is not a modern invention. It is one of the oldest entities in operation. It sat behind the money changers in the temple that Yeshua overturned. It sat behind the tax systems of Rome. It sits behind the central banks and the stock exchanges and the digital currencies now. The same spirit. The same control mechanism. The same principle — whoever controls the money controls the people. Mammon's grip on the financial system is declared broken. The Lord owns the gold and the silver and the cattle on a thousand hills and no entity that squats on the money supply overrides His provision to His people.

In the name of Yeshua, every ancient entity operating through the pharmaceutical and medical systems is exposed. Pharmakeia is the Greek word for sorcery and it is the root of the word pharmaceutical. That is not a coincidence. That is a lineage. The system that medicates the world operates under the same spirit that mixed potions in the temples of the ancient world. Not every medicine is sorcery. But the spirit that says you must depend on us, you must take what we give you, you must not seek healing from any other source — that spirit is pharmakeia and it is ancient and it is active and it is cast out from its position of authority over the health of the people of God.

And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived. — Revelation 18:23

By thy sorceries — pharmakeia — were all nations deceived. That is the scripture describing the fall of Babylon. The system that deceived all nations through its sorceries. The pharmaceutical, media, financial, technological complex that runs the modern world is Babylon wearing a suit and the entities behind it are the same entities that were behind the original. They did not die. They rebranded.

In the name of Yeshua, every ancient entity is put on notice. You are seen. You are named. You are exposed. The believer who reads this scroll and lifts it to the Lord sees through the modern costume to the ancient thing underneath. The bull-man at the gate. The serpent behind the screen. The eye above the pyramid. The spirit behind the algorithm. All of it is seen. All of it is named. And all of it is subject to the name of Yeshua which is above every name — above every ancient name, above every modern name, above every name that was ever spoken in any temple in any civilisation in any age.

Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name: That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth. — Philippians 2:9-10

Every ancient knee bows. Every entity that held a throne in Babylon bows. Every spirit that rode the Roman empire bows. Every principality that operated through Egypt bows. They bowed then whether they acknowledged it or not and they bow now. The name of Yeshua did not become powerful at Calvary — it was powerful before the foundation of the world. Calvary simply made it available to every believer to use. And it is used now. Against every ancient thing hiding in every modern system.

The influence is blocked. The manipulation is ended. The broadcasts are disrupted. The ceremonies are emptied. The algorithms are overridden. The gates are opened. The bull-man is removed from his post. And every person who reads this scroll walks through the gates that the ancient entities tried to guard, carrying fire that is older and more powerful than anything Babylon ever conjured.

Because Yeshua was before Babylon. And Yeshua will be after it falls.

Amen and amen.
